A RIDE WITH A MADMAN.

How John Randolph, of Roanoke, Gave His Friend Crawford an Airing.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer gives a sketch of the eccentric and brilliant John Randolph. It talks of him as the greatest intellect Virginia has produced. He may have been, and probably was, the most brilliant, but it was the fire of insanity. He was, part of his life, "as mad as a March hare." One of his mad freaks is ludicrously described by the writer in the Intelligencer, with some excusable exaggerations. The United States Senator Crawford alluded to was the man that ran for the Presidency in 1824.—The writer in the Intelligencer says:

Randolph's friend, Wm. H. Crawford, of Georgia, was born in Amherst county, Va., on the 24th of February, 1772, but emigrated to Georgia at an early day, and soon became noted as a lawyer and a statesman—was elected to the United States Senate in 1806, and again in 1811. Whilst members of Congress, the intimacy commenced between these distinguished politicians. In the month of December, 1810, Mr. Randolph had an attack of periodical gout, and went home to Roanoke.

But before leaving Washington, he learned that his friend Crawford intended visiting Georgia during the Christmas holidays on important business, and as he lived immediately on the route the Georgia Senator had to travel, he made him agree that he would call at Roanoke and eat his Christmas dinner. To this Senator Crawford agreed, and, true to his promise, reached Roanoke, the home of Mr. Randolph, on Christmas eve, the 24th of December, 1810.

The usual custom of those days with gentlemen traveling, was in the old-fashioned two-wheeled gig. Mr Randolph was, of course, much pleased to receive so distinguished a guest. Senator C. says he found Mr. Randolph greatly improved in health since he parted with him in Washington city, and in fine flow of spirits. They sat up till a late hour, discussing the political news of the day, and men as statesmen, warriors, poets and philosophers. On retiring to bed, Mr. Randolph remarked to his distinguished friend that he had been invited to take Christmas dinner with an old and esteemed friend, and that, inasmuch as he did not know whether he, Crawford, would come or not, he had promised to attend, and added that if he, Crawford, would consent to go, they would "ride over in the morning." Senator Crawford, thinking Mr. Randolph's friend lived only in the neighborhood consented at once. At this, Mr. Randolph bade him goodnight; the weather being clear but intensely cold, and Mr. Crawford much fatigued from his ride from Washington city to Charlotte county, slept soundly.

About half-past three o'clock, however, Senator C. says he was aroused from his slumbers by Mr. R. and a servant, who informed him that he must "be up, as it was time to start on the road to dine." Mr. Randolph approached the bed with a large bowl of strong coffee and brandy, and said to his friend, "drink this, Crawford; it will open your eyes, brace you for the ride, and give you an appetite for dinner." Whilst the Senator was dressing, Johnny approached and adjusted a huge pair of old English spurs, of the purest metal, and of great age, and artistic design. The spurs on, the Senator was admonished that the horses were at the door by the pawing and champing of the bits; at the same time Mr. Randolph, in that peculiar voice like the mellifluous tones of a silver trumpet, said: "Crawford, all is ready—let's ride."

The distinguished Georgian then approached the door, and, by the light of numerous pine torches, he saw three horses in readiness. Mr. Randolph, pointing to an immense black stallion, champing, pawing and snorting, held by two stalwart negro fellows, said, "Crawford, mount that horse." Mr. Crawford, being a very large and corpulent man, said: "I can't ride that horse." "Mount him, Crawford, mount him," was the reply. Mr. Crawford remonstrated, saying he was not accustomed to horse-back exercise, and he doubted his ability to ride that animal—pointing to the restless black stallion. Mr. Randolph seemed irritated, and said, rather sharply: "Mount, sir; mount him!" Mr. Crawford saw that no excuse would do, and he finally consented to mount, which he did, after great efforts—the stallion neighing, panting, pawing and rearing, but the negroes held him securely till the ponderous Georgian got fairly and squarely in the saddle, well in the stirrups, and reins well in hand.

Mr. Randolph then mounted a large bay stallion of high mettle, and then came forth Juba, the trusty old servant, dressed in full livery, with a cocked hat and trumpet.—Juba mounted the thorough-bred mare Trifle. Mr. Randolph then said, in a clear, shrill voice, "all ready;" at the same time the negroes unloosened the grip on the black stallion, Juba brought one long, loud blast on his trumpet, and the horses stood for a moment as if poised in mid-air, and then, with a tremendous plunge, they started.—Juba led the way followed next by Randolph and the bay stallion, then Mr. Crawford last, on the impetuous and hard-mouthed black stud. The weather being cold and dry, and the roads hard frozen, the morning atmosphere smote the face as with a shower of needles; and the clattering hoofs of those thorough-breds upon the hard and frozen ground in the stillness of the winter, soon resounded through those old Virginia hills, like the roar of a huge cavalry charge. Senator Crawford, being a man of great muscular power, made several efforts to stop the headlong career of his stalwart charger, but the more he pulled, the faster he ran. He halloed finally to Randolph to "stop—stop; that he could not stand it; but to all his entreaties Mr. Randolph turned a deaf ear, and the only response he could get would be the bugle blast of Juba, far in the van, mounted on the mare Trifle, who flew through the air like an arrow. Every time Juba blew the trumpet, the black stud ran faster and faster, until the corpulent Georgian felt that all was lost. But on they sped, until nearing the flat lands of the Staunton river, when the cry of hounds was heard, and Mr. Crawford, casting his eyes to the left, beheld an immense pack streaming around the hills towards the Christmas riders. On came the hounds, and on went the horsemen. Soon the Staunton river came in full view, which, for the moment, promised great relief to Mr. Crawford, of Georgia.—Consequently he watched Juba and the mare, considerably in the advance, as they neared the turbid and foaming river. But as Juba and the mare struck the river bank, to the mortification and disgust of Mr. Crawford, in they went; then followed Mr. Randolph on the mettled bay stallion; and, finally, Mr. Crawford felt that all hope was now gone, and, with a secret reservation to make one more desperate effort to check the wild career of his mighty charger, he pulled with the power of a giant against the bit; but it was of no use, for the first plunge the black stud made he was in swimming water.

By this time Mr. Randolph's full pack of hounds had caught the party and were swimming and yelling as though they were within fifty yards of a wounded stag or a red fox. The current of the river was rapid and the water intensely cold, and whilst swimming and drifting to the other bank, the thought and hope struck Mr. Crawford, that when safely across, the ride for the balance of the trip would be at their leisure.—Hence it was that Mr. Crawford watched again, with no little anxiety, Juba and the mare, still nearing the opposite bank, when to his horror as the mare ascended the bank Juba again brought a blast or two on his trumpet the mare switched the water from her flaxen tail, and on she went, Mr. Randolph second and Mr. Crawford and the black stud third. The hounds having an even start from the South side of the river, now kept up with the Christmas party, and in full cry as though they were on the warmest trail. Soon a second pack joined the first pack, and so on, for every few miles a new pack would join the chorus, and on they went. Finally, Juba and the mare quit the road and struck out through the fields, followed by Mr. Randolph and Mr. Crawford, across gullies, ditches, over fences, through briars, ponds, creeks and everything that obstructed a straight line. At last relief came, for the party reached Col. Barksdale's about one o'clock. Mr Crawford was greatly exhausted, and his pants having slipped above his knees, his legs were scratched by briars, bruised by fence railings and saplings, and chafed no little by, the stirrup leathers. The premises were thronged with some half a dozen packs of hounds that had joined the Christmas party on the route. The distinguished guests were received with much satisfaction and great consideration. The old fashioned Virginia gentry were present in full force. The first thing that greeted the visitors on their entrance into the mansion, after the usual salutations and introductions, was an immense silver bowl full to overflowing with hot apple toddy; yet he was suffering greatly from the terrible morning ride; still, neither Mr. Randolph or any of the party made any allusion to it. Dinner being announced, Mr. Crawford found much difficulty in getting to the table, still there was no allusion made to the morning ride. After being seated around the table for at least five hours, and having eat and drank through a truly Christmas course, and undergoing the excitements of the rich food and viands, discussion and speech making, in addition to his corporeal sufferings from the ride, suddenly the distinguished Georgian wished to be excused. He informed Col. Barksdale that he would be glad to retire. But little sleeping was done, as the phantom of the black stud constantly aroused the great Georgian, who awoke himself more than once, by hallooing "wo—wo, sir!" and holding on to the bed post. About 11 o'clock the next day Mr. Randolph went to the room of his friend and said:

"Crawford, if you go to Georgia next winter, call and see me; good-bye, old fellow." No allusion was made to the ride.

Senator Crawford never got away from Colonel Barksdale's for about six weeks.—From Colonel Barksdale's to Mr. Randolph's was forty-two miles. Such was an old Virginia steeple chase, more than fifty years ago.

WHY is a weathercock like a loafer? Because he is constantly going round doing nothing.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS.—Ladies who deck their hair with mimic bloom, have, in general, little idea of the way in which these false flowers grow. They wear them light-hearted, in the gayest scenes, and think not that they are transplanted from the saddest. They put forth their leaves and delicate hues in stifling garrets, in fetid back kitchens, or in hot, over-crowded factories, where the gas-burners are often without glass or shade, and gas stoves are set on the table to heat the tools, while a hundred women and girls from nine years old and upward, bend over their hot-house plants. Some hold the hand-stamp which cuts through sixteen folds at a time of the muslin or silk that is to make the leaves and flowers. Others vein the leaves by pressing them between dies, or paint the petals separately with a brush when the centre is to be left white. Most of them are busy with the finer work of constructing the flowers. The gum and wax, dust for bloom, with potato flour, or with blown glass powder for frost; they twist paper or silk thread for the stalk, and make the foundation on which the petals stick. Slender wires are run through the blossoms, and a small goffering iron gives them their curl. All this is strange and fidgety work, especially by gas light, with blistered fingers, thumb nails worn to the quick, and the dust of paint and other material inflaming the eyes, and preparing patients for the Opthalmic Hospital. The blues and carmines try the sight sadly, and the latter causes heaviness in the head. Arsenic green and verdigris blue are seldom used; but enough is left to poison the poor "flower girl's" existence. She works in London fourteen or fifteen hours a day, and sometimes longer. After thirteen hours' work, girls often take home sufficient for two hours more.

THE PITCH LAKE OF TRINIDAD.—This wonderful and singular natural formation is situated at a place called La Brea, and is about sixteen or twenty miles from Port au Spain, the capital of the island. Its area is between one hundred acres, that is, the lake itself, but the same foundation extends down to the sea shore, and even for some distance under the sea. The substance itself is hard, black slimy pitch; this is the appearance of that along the road to the lake, which is about a mile from the shore, but that found in the lake, in some parts of it, is quite soft and almost liquid. But the most singular thing about this lake is that all attempts hitherto made to find out the depth of this formation have proved futile and that, too, from natural causes. The men engaged in mining the pitch work on the surface of the lake, which is comparatively hard, except in some places, with pickaxes and spades, chopping out the pitch in good-sized pieces; but the elasticity and expansibility of this substance is so great that even if they have dug a pit, say for the depth of four or five feet, and perhaps six feet long by five feet wide, in the course of a day, they will find, on returning to their work in the morning, the walls of this hole approximating so closely as to be almost touching each other, and if left four or five hours longer there is not to be seen the slightest trace of where the night before was a yawning pit in the surface, and thus no sensible diminution is visible in the quantity existing in the lake even with the large amount annually removed for shipment to foreign ports. Very considerable quantities of this pitch are annually exported to England, in vessels chartered for that purpose, from which oil is refined. It is also used for the ordinary purposes of gravel roofing.

COMFORTING THE AFFLICTED.—Certain it is, that as nothing can better do it, so there is nothing greater, for which God made our tongues, next to reciting praises, than to minister comfo t to a weary soul. And what greater measure can we have, than that we should bring joy to our brother, who with his dreary eyes looks to heaven and round about, and cannot find so much rest as to lay his eye-lids close together—than that thy tongue should be tuned with heavenly accents, and make the weary soul listen for light and ease, and, when he perceives that there is such a thing in the world, and in the order of things, as comfort and joy, to begin to break out from the prison of his sorrows, at the door of sighs and tears, and by little and little, melt into showers of refreshment? This is glory to thy voice, and employment fit for the brightest angel. But so have I seen the sun kiss the frozen earth, which was bound up with the images of death, and the colder breath of the north; and then the waters break from their enclosures, and melt with joy, and run in useful channels; and the flies do rise again from their little graves in walls, and dance awhile in the air, to tell that there is joy within, and that the great mother of creatures will open the stock of her new refreshment, become useful to mankind, and sing praises to her Redeemer. So is the heart of a sorrowful man under the discourses of a wise comforter; he breaks from the dispairs of the grave, and the fetters and chains of sorrow; he blesses God, and he blesses thee, and he feels his life returning: for to be miserable is death, but nothing is life but to be comforted; and God is pleased with no music from below so much as in the thanksgiving songs of relieved widows, of supported orphans, of rejoicing, and comforted, and thankful persons.

SUCH STUFF AS DREAMS ARE MADE OF.—The Irish papers contain a romantic story, substantially as follows:—"About twelve months ago, a gentleman who resided in the county of Galway, dreamed that he had been instrumental in saving the life of a lovely and accomplished young lady, who would have been dashed to pieces had it not been for his timely aid. The fair one was so deeply engraven on his mind, that, when he awoke being a tolerably good artist, his first impulse was to make a sketch of it, which he improved from day to day, until it was rendered as perfect as possible. On a bitter cold night, some months subsequently, while the dreamer was comfortably ensconced in an arm chair before a blazing fire, he was startled by the scream of a female. In a moment his overcoat was hurried on and he shortly arrived on the spot whence the cries proceeded. In a deep ditch by the side of a road, a horse was kicking and plunging in a fearful manner, attached to a jaunting car, which was turned upside down. Three persons were quickly rescued from beneath it, and conveyed to the house, where they soon recovered from the effects of the accident. The gentleman who had saved their lives appeared all at once struck with one of the party, a young lady, whom he felt certain he had seen before. The dream was brought forcibly to his recollection, and on entering another apartment, his visitors were more than astonished to perceive the portrait of one of themselves suspended from the wall. The mystery was soon explained, and in two months from that date the dreamer and the fair young lady were married in Dublin."

HOME AFFECTIONS.—The heart has affections that never die. The rough rubs of the world cannot obliterate them. They are the memories of home—only home; there is the old tree under which the light-hearted boy has swung many a day; yonder is the rivers in which he learned to swim, there is the house in which he knew a parent's protection—nay, there is the room in which he romped with brother and sister, long since laid in the yard in which he must soon be gathered, overshadowed by yon old church whither with a joyous troop like himself, he had often followed his parents to worship, and near the good old man who ministered at the altar. Even the very school-house, associated in youthful days with thoughts of tasks, now comes to bring pleasant remembrances of many occasions that called forth some generous exhibition of noble traits of human nature. There is where he learned to feel some of his first emotions. There, perchance, he first met the being who, by her love and tenderness in life has made a home for himself happier than that which his childhood has known. There are certain feelings of humanity—and those, too, among the best—that can find no appropriate place for their exercise only at one's fireside.

THE LEGEND OF THE THIRD DEGREE.—The legend, as it is called, of the Master Mason, is one of the most touching and beautiful in the great drama of life. Founded as it is, upon the mysteries and ceremonies of the ancient Egyptians, it has come down to us as the very embodiment and substance of Masonry. It is the impressive exemplification of the birth, the life, the duties, the death and the resurrection of man. It stamps upon the intelligent Mason the sublime doctrine of the immortality of the soul; and it was a wise provision of all Grand Lodges, that degrees should never be given in part only, but should be completed at every undertaking.

To omit this legend is to omit the degree itself, and for its omission there is no ordinary excuse, not even the ignorance of the master, who may not have the talent or industry to learn it. This legend is the grand landmark, the unfailing beacon of Masonic centuries. It is never changed; it will admit of no removal, for it is the true point of the universal Brotherhood. It conveys thought, and furnishes food for the reflective mind down to the grave and as a simple drama stands unequaled beside any of the productions of genius. No Mason ever participated in and forgot it; he felt its moral upon his soul, as though it were a touch of divinity, and when properly understood, it inspires a solemnity second only to the scene of death.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.—Middle-Aged Uncle:—"Not proposed to her yet! Why, what a shilly-shallying fellow you are, George! You'll have that little widow snapped up from under your nose, as sure as your'e born! Pretty gal like that—nice little property—evidently likes you—with an estate in the Highlands, too, and you a sporting man——" Nephew. "Ah! that's where it is, Uncle! Her Fishing's good, I know; but I'm not so sure about her Grouse!"

A Wisconsin paper tells the story of a man who eloped with another's wife but on going to the hotel breakfast-table in Chicago, where such congenial spirits most do congregate, was filled with consternation at seeing his own wife with the man whose domestic peace he thought he had wrecked forever. After consultation each escorted his own lawful wife back to his deserted hearthstone.

THE SAME EVERYWHERE.—A radical paper says that "under the garb of excessive loyalty, the treasury of New York has been plundered and the State disgraced." This is true of every Northern State, and of every town and city where loyal radicalism has held sway. One half of the debts and taxes under which the States, towns and people of the North are now weighed down, are the result of this swindling "under the garb of excessive loyalty." And this plundering is still going on. How much longer is it to be tolerated?

THE FAMINE IN THE SOUTH.

To Ministers of the Gospel.

A circular issued from the Board of Trade Rooms, Philadelphia, calls upon the people of Bedford county to contribute their mite to the Fund for the relief of the Starving Poor of the South. The following have been appointed by the Ianagers of the Fund, a committee, to bring the subject before the people of Bedford county:

John Cessna, W. T. Daugherty, W. P. Schell, E. F. Kerr, J. T. Gephart, J. G. Hartley, B. F. Meyers, G. R. Bailey, J. P. Reed, Josiah Miller, Andrew Crisman, Joseph B. Noble, James Madara, A. H. Hull, F D. Beegle, H. P. Diehl, J. B. Williams, C. W. Ashcom, John Filler.

At a meeting of as many of the Committee as could be assembled, it was

Resolved, That the ministers of the several churches in the county, be respectfully requested to announce to their congregations that contributions in aid of the Southern Famine Relief Fund, will be solicited on next Sabbath, 19th inst., or as soon thereafter as they may deem best.

We hope that the gentlemen appointed the above committee will see that ministers in their neighborhood are requested to announce this collection to their congregations. There is pressing need for help. White and black alike are crying to us for bread. Shall we turn a deaf ear to the cries of starvation? God forbid.

Contributions can be sent to any of the committee residing in Bedford, who will at once forward them to the Treasurer at Philadelphia; or may be sent direct to J. M. Aertsen, Treasurer, S. E. Corner Walnut and Dock Streets, Philadelphia.

"SEEDS OF DISSOLUTION."

There can be no doubt as to the rapid decay of the Radical party. The very fact that its leaders rely wholly and solely upon the Negro vote to keep them in power, shows that they believe their hold upon the people to be loosening. Senator Wilson and Judge Kelley would not perambulate the South, appealing to the blacks for assistance, did they not see the hand writing on the wall. Wendell Phillips thus acknowledges his conviction that the party is doomed to disruption:

"The seeds of dissolution have been sown in the Republican party. Perhaps I should say that the party always contained the elements of its own destruction, and that it only required the provocation of circumstances to develop them. At any rate, the development is visible to the common eye, as it has long been seen by those whose habits of close observation have given to their mental vision a clear sight."

The New York Spirit of the Times, always intensely Radical, edited by George Wilkes, an acute and thoroughbred politician, adds its testimony on this subject:

"The Republican majority in Congress, heedless of the lessons of history, and heedless of the inexorable laws of revolution has taken its course and must abide the inevitable penalties of error. Those erratic philosophers within its ranks who are already sighing that its majority is too large, need sigh no more. The President will be speedily reinforced, not only by the reconstructed South, but by sufficient defections from the Republican party, to put an end to the two-thirds votes which have heretofore embarrassed him."

These out-givings of leading Radicals are as encouraging to Democrats as they are disheartening to the enemy. When a party feels itself defeated before it enters the contest, it will not make a very stubborn stand on the day of battle. Nevertheless, let us not be over-confident, but work just as hard for Democracy as if the enemy dared us to the conflict, with all his colors flying.

KENTUCKY!

The Democrats of old Kentucky have covered themselves with glory. Every Congressional district in the State elects the regular Democratic nominee, thus securing nine Democratic members, instead of five as at the last election. The Democratic majority on the popular vote in the State, is upwards of 35,000! So much for the military despotism to force Negro Suffrage upon the South, erected by the late Radical Congress. Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky have already repudiated it. Pennsylvania will do the same in October next.

THE END DRAWETH NIGH.

Six years of Disunion! It seems but yesterday that every State was represented in Congress and every star was in its place upon the flag. Yet six years have passed away since fifty seats were made vacant in the National House of Representatives, and ten stars were torn from our flag by the rude hand of war. Those seats remain vacant, those stars have not been restored to the constallation upon our banner. Beaten in war, their once fair country ruined and desolate, and now reduced to the extremity of want, the Southern people ernnestly desire to redeem the past by adhering in good faith to the Constitution and the Union. Two years ago they threw down their arms and abandoned their cause forever. Two years ago they sued for pardon and re-admittance to fellowship in the Republic. During these two years a great struggle has been in progress, not between the people of the South and the Federal Government, but between those who favor Restoration and those who oppose it, between the friends of the Union and those who strive to prolong Disunion. Thus far a small majority of the Northern people have succeeded in controlling Congress in the interests of prolonged Disunion. The Radical majority in that body have succeeded in keeping vacant the fifty seats upon the floor which they occupy. They have kept the Union dissolved during the past two years, and it is their purpose, of course, to prevent its restoration as long as possible. The rehabilitation of the Southern States in their rights under the Constitution, means death to the Radical organization, and well do those who control it, know it. Thaddeus Stevens says, in a recent public letter, that organization under the Military Reconstruction Act, will not entitle the Southern people to representation in Congress. He says confiscation must be added to the provisions of this bill. But the people are beginning to revolt at the inhumanity and treachery of the Radical leaders. Every election held since the passage of the Reconstruction Act, bears testimony to the truth of this statement. The masses want Restoration and will not brook continued Disunion. Verily, the end draweth nigh, when Radicalism, the fiend that soweth destruction throughout the land, shall be buried beyond the reach of resurrection. Let us work patiently, but earnestly, to bring about this result, and the God of Justice and of Peace will bless our efforts.

THE RADICAL AGITATION.

The agitators of the Radical faction belonging to Congress, are employing the greatest energy in preaching sedition and hate among the negroes of the South during the vacation. Day after day, the announcement is made that some member of the delirious faction has started South to spread the new evangelism of the party. Wilson, Kelly, Nye, and many more are already there, and before a week, a seditious agitator will be distributed in every district where the military are employed to overawe the people, or to organize meetings of negroes. These champions constitute a new order of knighthood, not like the paladins and chevaliers of old who plied up and down the world for gallant adventure, but one that seeks to minister to the base passions of the ignorant.

No danger besets these heroes such as those that were encountered by ancient knights errant; they march to the Southern fields after the war has ended; not a man of them was ever in the front; they smelt the battle afar off. They safely make their harangues now beneath the shadow of Federal bayonets. They are not even in danger of reproof or reply, for whoever should attempt one is denounced as an enemy to the Government, and an unappeasable rebel, or is marched off by a file of Federal gens d' armes. No matter how vaunting and arrogant the speech, how seditious the appeal, or how unmanly the insult to a fallen enemy, these itinerant demagogues are safe. Before starting on their gallant enterprise against society and order in the South, they took care to gag by military law every man who might presume to oppose them; so they can rant and bravado, babble to the negro in both ears, cut the capers of the knightly Falstaff—no danger of opposition threatens them, for they have made opposition dumb by gag law. All that one of these delirious ranters has to fear is that some other champion, following in his wake, may surpass him in braggadocio or rage, or may cast him in the shade by brighter promises to his negro auditors. This, then, is the great millenium of Radicalism—political demonstrations, and debates without opponents—preaching anarchy and sedition to the ignorant, surrounded by bayonets hired by the Republic to enslave the people.

—Lifelike.—It is said that Gov. Geary will have his five-hundred dollar portrait taken with his back toward the battle-field.

JEEFERSON DAVIS.

Underwood, the would-be Jeffreys of Virginia, has permitted a writ of habeas corpus to issue for the production of Jefferson Davis in his court at Richmond. Mr. Davis, it is said, will be released from military custody, and rearrested under civil process on an indictment for Treason. He was, at last accounts, lodged at the Spottswood Hotel. Horace Greely and Augustus Schell, of New York, and Gen. Jackman, of Philadelphia, are at Richmond, to offer themselves as bail for Davis, should Underwood be prevailed upon to release him. It is said that Underwood insists upon refusing bail, and that he has determined to confine the prisoner in Libby, as he thinks by so doing to raise a sensation, and at the same time pander to the resentment of the Northern people. There seems to be no present prospect of Mr. Davis' trial.

P.S. Since the above was put in type, we have learned that Mr. Davis has been released on bail, the amount being $100,000, Horace Greely, Augustus Schell, General Jackman and A. Welch becoming his securities. It is said that Underwood was finally induced to take bail by the importunings of Mr. Greely and Mr. Evarts, one of the council for the Government.

BLACK RIOTS.

Senator Wilson, Judge Kelly and other Radical spouters, are traveling in the South, making inflammatory speeches to the lazy and thriftless negroes congregated in the large cities. The first fruits of their labors are already visible in the lawless demonstrations of their black disciples. Several negro riots have recently occurred in Richmond and Charleston, and others were prevented only by the timely interference of the authorities. One of the Radical stump-orators (Hayward, of Boston,) was arrested in Richmond, the other day, for using language calculated to stir up Negro mobs. Such is the work of Radicalism.

THE "HUNNICUTTS."

A gentleman who has recently traveled in Virginia, (pardon us, reader, we should say, "District No. 1") tells us that the colored people on the plantations in that State, whenever they want to say something very severe of a darkey, ejaculate, "Oh, you's nothin' but a Hunnicutt nigger!" By this is meant that the colored brother is a follower of Hunnicutt, the Virginia Abolitionist, and to be such is considered by the elite of the Virginia negroes, as disreputable in the highest degree. What must those darkeys think of the thousands of white men who take their cue from such fellows as Hunnicutt?

NEGRO RIOTS.

Disturbances in Richmond, Va.—The Negroes Attack the Police—The Military Capture of 18 Rioters—Arrest of a Massachusetts Agitator for Attempting to Create a Riot.

RICHMOND, May 11.—In view of the recent riot, the Eleventh United States infantry is about to encamp permanently at the City Springs Park, within the city.

Some citizens have laid before General Schofield a complaint about the language at the colored meeting on Friday night, as likely to produce further disturbances, and the matter is being investigated.

RICHMOND, May 12.—Another negro riot occurred in the lower part of the city last night. The negroes attempted to rescue a drunken negro from the police. Bricks, clubs and pistols were used, and four policemen badly beaten. One of them is severely injured. A company of soldiers guarding the Libby Prison were called on, and captured eighteen of the rioters.

While this was going on, another negro difficulty occurred on First Street. This last mob dispersed upon the persuasion of a colored juryman. To-day mounted soldiers patrolled the streets to keep order, and squads of police were placed at all the churches, in view of threats of the negroes to force their way in amongst the white poeple. A large procession of negro societies attended a funeral to-day, accompanied by an unarmed company of colored militia, the officers of which carried swords. There was no disturbance.

Last night Jedekiah K. Hayward, of Massachuetts, was arrested for using language at the meeting on Friday night calculated to create a riot. His language was as follows:

"After Judge Underwood leaves, you can hold high carnival, or what you please. I need not advise you what to do, for great bodies do as they have a mind to."

He was arrested on a warrant from the Mayor, and was bailed in $3,000 to appear to-morrow.

If a white man unaccompanied by a lady, (no matter how much of a gentlemen he may be,) attempts to enter a railroad car devoted to ladies and their escorts, he is stopped by the conductor or brakesman and sent into a car devoted exclusively to men. Remonstrance is useless, and there is no rule or law by which he can compel a conductor to allow him to choose a car and a seat for himself. On the other hand, if a negro, unaccompanied by a negress, (no matter how dirty, hideous, or ill-behaved he may be,) offers to get into the ladies' car, the conductor and brakesmen are bound by the law passed by the Radicals of the Cameron Legislature to allow him to do so. If they do not, both they and the officers of the railroad company by whom they are employed will be liable to prosecution, fine and imprisonment. Is this negro equality? No; it is more; for, under that law the white man has not the same privileges as a buck negro. Any he-darkey can enter the ladies' car and force himself into the same seat with a white lady, and no one, at the risk of fine and imprisonment, can prevent him; but no white man can so much as enter the car. For all these "blessings," good ladies and gentlemen of Pennsylvania, you are indebted to the Radicals of the Legislature, who passed the bill, and to John W Geary, who signed it. Don't you feel thankful to them?—Bloomsburg Star.

WILSON'S TOUR.—Senator Wilson's Southern tour seems to be a case of great cry and little wool. The flock surrounds him but there is little shearing done, and he is likely to come back empty-handed. The blacks listen to him, but wonder what all the bother is about.—The whites let him alone, and have not paid him the compliment of getting angry at anything he has said. He has rated them to his heart's content, and they hear him with civility, if not with respect, and then Mr. Wilson packs up his stock of platitudes and diatribes and takes himself off unnoticed to the next town. It seems rather dull sort of work. It is not, we may be sure, exactly what the Senator bargained for. If there had been a disturbance anywhere what a theme it would have supplied him with—what a martyr he would have returned! As it is, he comes back in the position of one who thought to move the universe, and finds that he has not made so much stir as a gad fly in summer. The Southern people soon found out that it was not an earthquake or a whirlwind which had come among them, but only a reed shaken by the wind. And we say that this is very discouraging for poor Mr. Wilson, and we hope he will bear up bravely under his adversities.—N. Y. Times.

AN "Alabamian," in a Mobile paper, who has been in Boston, thus hits on their prohibitory law: Boston seems to be growing worse every day in intolerance. They won't allow a circus to have a 'bar,' or a band of 'tumblers.' 'Trance mediums' are forbidden to practice, because they call in the aid of spirits. Opticians are watched, because it is said people get their glases there. The London Punch and Wilkes' Spirit are forbidden to be sold by the periodical dealers. Apothecaries are forbidden to sell liquorice! People are liable to be arrested for being in high spirits! Children who complain of the stomachache, are locked up for fear it might be sham pain. Men are arrested on suspicion of being distillers, who are caught 'rectifying' mistakes! Hotels have had to take 'rum omelets' and 'wine sauce' off their bills of fare. All bookstores selling histories containing an account of the "Battle of Brandywine' are closed at once. Dead people cannot be buried on a bier! Vessels are not allowed to come into the harbor, because they have to pass a bar in doing so; and sea captains are not allowed to take 'any Port in a storm;' if they do they must tell where they got it! Enterprising men dare not show any public spirit, and even the poor washerwomen are liable to arrest who have 'three sheets in the wind!"

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—We learn that the blacksmith shop of Jacob Lear, at Shady Grove, was struck by lightning during the storm on last Monday afternoon. No serious damage was done, as the electric fluid did not communicate fire to the building. Several persons in the vicinity were shocked so severely as to cause them to fall down, while the horses in a barn belonging to Melchi Snively, Esq., a distance of one hundred yards, fell simultaneously.—Greencastle Pilot.

—Alexander Cummings, of Philadelphia, has resigned his place as Governor of Colorado, and entered his securities as Internal Revenue Collector of the Fourth District of Pennsylvania.

—Jacob Riley was tried recently in the Alleghany County Court, of Maryland, for killing his father, and sentenced to sixteen years' imprisonment. The case was an aggravated one.

GOLD IN MIFFLIN COUNTY.—It appears that some iron ore taken from the mines of J. W. Boody, about four miles from Mount Union, along the Juniata river, contained a considerable amount of gold and also some silver. The ore was assayed, and it is said contained twelve dollars and eighty cents of gold and eighty cents of silver to the ton. The ore, it is asserted, can be counted by millions of tons.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP. This great medicine cured Dr. J. H. Schenck, the proprietor, of Pulmonary Consumption, when it had assumed its most formidable aspect, and when speedy death appeared to be inevitable. His physicians pronounced his case incurable, when he commenced the use of this simple but powerful remedy. His health was restored in a very short time, and no return of the disease has been apprehended, for all the symptoms quickly disappeared, and his present weight is more than two hundred pounds.

Since his recovery, he has devoted his attention exclusively to the cure of Consumption, and the diseases which are usually complicated with it, and the cures effected by his medicines have been very numerous and truly wonderful. Dr. Schenck makes professional visits to several of the larger cities weekly, where he has a large concourse of patients, and it is truly astonishing to see poor consumptives that have to be lifted out of their carriages, and in a few months healthy, robust persons. Dr. Schenck's PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC, and MANDRAKE PILLS, are generally all required in curing Consumption. Full directions accompany each, so that any one can take them without seeing Dr. Schenck, but when it is convenient it is best to see him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer his fee is three dollars.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all druggists and dealers; price $1 50 per bottle, or $7 50 the half dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. Schenck, principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

KNOW THY DESTINY.—MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a lifelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with the date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communication, sacredly confidential. Address in confidence, MADAME E. F. THORNTON, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y. marl,'67y1

TO OWNERS OF HORSES.—Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 19 years by the first horsemen in the country Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, has used it for years, and says it is far superior to any other he has tried. He kindly permits me to refer to him. His address is East New York, Long Island. Recollect, Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment is put up in pint bottles. Take no other. Sold by the Druggists and Saddlers. Depot, 56 Cortland St., N. Y. WET WEATHER.—Some very heavy showers of rain fell during the beginning of this week. Several of our young friends went out fishing on Monday last. The fishermen pursued their piscatorial sport about one hour and caught—a ducking!

Publications.

The only Democratic Magazine published in the United States.
VOL. V. Again Enlarged! 1867.
THE OLD GUARD,
A MONTHLY MAGAZINE, DEVOTED TO
Literature, Science and Art, and the Political Principles of 1776 and 1787.
C. CHAUNCEY BURR, EDITOR.
The success of THE OLD GUARD has been as remarkable as it ought to be gratifying to the friends of a true American literature. It has steadily doubled its circulation each year of its publication, and its publishers have found it necessary to annually enlarge it, to meet the full expectations of its patrons, as well as to realize their own ideal of a first-class Family and Literary Magazine, combined with sound political principles.—To still farther carry out this design, The Old Guard for 1867 will be printed on new type, and enlarged sixteen additional pages, making in all nearly One Thousand Pages of reading matter yearly for the low price of three dollars! Arrangements have also been made to secure the very best literary talent of the country. We will commence in the January number a thrilling Romance, written expressly for The Old Guard, entitled,
JOSCELYN; A Tale of the Revolution;
By Wm. Gilmore Simms, Esq., of S. C., the peer of Cooper and Irving, taking the reader back to the birth of the American principle of government, and introducing him to the rebels of 1776. John Esten Cooke, Esq., of Virginia, author of "Surry of Eagle's Nest," &c,, &c., will furnish a series of graphic sketches, entitled "The Battles of Virginia," while our present corps of contributors, with some new ones, will continue to furnish articles, making the Magazine second to none in point of literary attraction and ability.—Politically, The Old Guard will stand in the future as in the past, faithfully guarding the Constitution as it came from the hands of Washington, without acquiescing in any of the subversions, under the title of "amendments." It will be continued upon the grand idea that "all is not lost," while virtue and intelligence remain with any portion of the people.

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)
SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the Standard Skirt of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
Caution.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

ASTROLOGY.
The World Astonished
AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives your name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wig—
Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.
REPARATOR CAPILLI
For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, provided entire satisfaction is not given. Miscellaneous.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These The World always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of The World for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. The World will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. The World adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, The World will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of The World, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, The World will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the The World prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York Argus has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political, agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the Weekly World.
The Semi-Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The Daily World affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
